

MARC MAISON

120, rue des rosiers
93400 Saint Ouen
(France)
tel: +33.(0)6.60.62.61.90
contact@marcmaison.com

Portrait of a woman by Maurice Quentin de La Tour, 1748-1755, Inv.27614, © Marc Maison

Commode by Caffieri, 1750-1755, Inv.27614, © Marc Maison

Armchair by Caffieri, 1750-1755, Inv.27614, © Marc Maison

Architectural drawing by Nicolas Pineau, 1730-1735, Inv.CD 1686, © Marc Maison

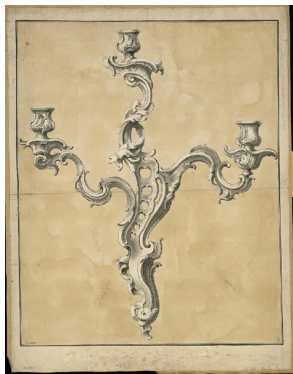

The Louis XV style is a French style of the 18th century, characterized by its elegance and grace. It is a style that is both refined and playful, and it is a style that is both elegant and graceful.

The Louis XV style is a French style of the 18th century, characterized by its elegance and grace. It is a style that is both refined and playful, and it is a style that is both elegant and graceful. The Louis XV style is a French style of the 18th century, characterized by its elegance and grace.

The Louis XV style is a French style of the 18th century, characterized by its elegance and grace. It is a style that is both refined and playful, and it is a style that is both elegant and graceful. The Louis XV style is a French style of the 18th century, characterized by its elegance and grace.

The Louis XV style is a French style of the 18th century, characterized by its elegance and grace. It is a style that is both refined and playful, and it is a style that is both elegant and graceful. The Louis XV style is a French style of the 18th century, characterized by its elegance and grace.

You can see all the objects of the Louis XV style by Galerie Marc Maison by following this link.

Objet d'art : Candelabre en argent
Dominique Pineau 1730-1740
Inv. CD1695 ©

Objet d'art : Vase en argent
Juste-Aurèle Meissonnier
Pierre-François Bonnestrenne 1735-1740 ©

Objet d'art : Peinture
François Boucher 1739 R.F. 926. ©

Objet d'art : Jardin de « la Fontaine »
1745
Jacques Philippe Mareschal

Objet d'art : Hôtel de Soubise
Germain Boffrand
Charles-Joseph Natoire 1735-1740